Sky Dancer	Gill Lewis	Joe has always loved the moorlands above his home: the wildness, the freedom, the peace. But since his father died, everything has changed, and the moors are no longer a place of refuge. Now the whole community is divided over the fate of the hen harriers that nest up there in the heather - and Joe is stuck right in the middle, with a choice to make, and a huge secret to keep. Joe can't do what's right for everyone. But can he find the strength to fight for what he really believes in? Expert storyteller Gill Lewis presents a beautiful tale of loss, expectation, and change - with an important and
What a Wonderful World	Leisa Stewart-Sharp	This book takes you on a breathtaking tour of our planet - from towering mountaintops, through grasslands, jungles, rivers, deserts, polar wildernesses and into the blue ocean - to discover the incredible variety of life that calls it home. Along the way, read the stories of 35 inspiring Earth Shakers - children and adults, from tree-planters to scientists, from all around the world - who have taken action to protect it.
How to Save the World with a Chicken and an Egg	Emma Shevah	Featuring extrovert Ivy, who has a unique way of communicating with the natural world, and Nathaniel, a boy with a singular and uncanny ability to retain facts about living things, this fascinating eco-mystery is an absorbing read that will appeal to more advanced readers in upper KS2. The interesting narration is an ideal starting point for discussing and hot seating characters with different perspectives on life.
City of Rust	Gemma Fowler	This exciting eco-adventure sees Railey and her sidekick robo-Gecko Atti not only trying to win a futuristic worldwide drone race but also save the world from an impending explosion of rubbish and refuse. Fast-moving and easy to read, this middle-grade novel will appeal to environmentally aware and STEM engaged pupils in year 5&6.
The Extraordinary Colours of Auden Dare	Zillah Bethell	An atmospheric story that slowly builds into a gripping page-turner. Set in a world fighting over dwindling water supplies, the reader is introduced to Auden - an 11-year-old who is colour blind. But when he moves to a new town and meets a fascinating new friend, his life begins to change. Can he finish the work his professor uncle started and solve the planet's problems? An ideal class reader for upper KS2.
